“ I remember I used to call her "old grandma" & my dad's mom was "new grandma," because grandma opal was there from day one and I must not have met my other Grandma until I was a little bit older. She's to make the best biscuits and gravy I've ever had in my life I can still smell the smell. She made it special, just white gravy, for those of us who don't like sausage when we were kids. She was strong and dealt with a lot in her life , she endured many hardships, she always overcame and still survived until she was in her 90s. if god would bless me with a quarter of her strength throughout my life, I would be a lucky woman!
