A loving father, husband, son and brother, Bill was a sponge for knowledge and he did everything possible to pass it along to his loved ones. He was united in marriage with Rosella Dickerson on May 23, 1998; to whom he was blessed to share in raising a step-daughter and two children of his own. A survivalist, Bill was environmentally intact and always aware of his surroundings. Full of emotions and a sponge for knowledge, he took advantage of every opportunity to serve as a mentor to his wife and children; instilling and encouraging them to be independent, resourceful and prepared in all situations. An outdoorsman, he enjoyed gold panning, riding four wheelers, camping, hunting for bonsai trees and spending time with family and friends. Always supportive of his loved ones endeavors, his presence will be deeply missed and his memory will be treasured.

“ Will had a true love of nature and animals. He came to our house several times for work, and every single time our cat, Siggy would follow him around and supervise. He loved to walk in our woods looking for ginseng and deer sign. I'm going to miss him. He already survived a horrible accident & I had looked forward to seeing him for years to come.

“ We met Wil when we first moved to Mooresville and needed work done around the house. Wil became more than a contractor, he became a friend. I have known a lot of people over the years but have not met another person more honest, hard working and a pleasure to talk to and be with.
